

GENDER MATTERS

Educating for Equality?

Ethical Education Conference 2017

Educate
Together

Friday 24 - Saturday 25 November

Grand Hotel Malahide, Dublin

#EthicalEducation #GenderMatters

Why focus on Gender Equality?

One of the principles of the Educate Together Charter is co-education. What does this mean in 2017? Co-education means more than educating boys and girls together, it means educating all students together, providing equality of access and experience to each student irrespective of their cultural background, belief system or gender or any other status. But how is this lived out in practice?

This conference will discuss and explore the gender matters that face us in education in Ireland today. We will explore important questions such as:

- How do we increase the gender balance in participation in STEM subjects?
- How do we tackle gender discrimination and stereotyping in our schools?
- How do we manage school sports to ensure participation by all students?

Programme

Friday 24th November 2017

3.30pm	Student Council Training
4.30pm	Break
4.45pm	StudentMeet
6.00pm	Break/Registration
6.30pm	Panel Discussion: Gender Matters in Sport
8.00pm	Wine Reception

Saturday 25th November 2017

8.30am	Registration Tea/coffee Exhibition stands
9.30am	TeachMeet
11.00am	Break
11.30am	Official Launch of Ethical Education Online Course
11.45am	Keynote Address: Dr. Debbie Ging
1.15pm	Lunch
2.15pm	Workshop 1
3.45pm	Workshop 2

Book now at <http://bit.ly/EthEd2017> or phone us at 01 429 2500

www.educatetogether.ie